

It's another busy day at the bakery! We are tired and have been making cupcake after cupcake after muffin today. It's a cozy day to be baking, though. We had a volunteer, Francisco, helping in the kitchen today – he heard about us on the State of Things and wanted to help out!

-Noah

Reminder: We are not baking for the subscription next week, because of passover preparations. If this is a problem for you, let us know – we have to bake for wholesale anyway, so we may be able to add in a few extra loaves.

Tomorrow night, you're invited to Rally for postal workers/to keep 6-day USPS delivery Sunday, 3/24 at 2pm

In Raleigh at the Old State Capitol building (south side), W Morgan St & Fayetteville St. The National Association of Letter Carriers is taking action to rally support to save America's Postal Service and Saturday delivery. There are over 35,000 good-paying, union jobs at stake. Washington will be voting on weather to renew six-day mail delivery in the budget resolution on March 27.

Rally at the Raleigh DMV with the NC Dream Team Monday, 3/25 at 3:30pm
DMV at 2431 Spring Forest Road North Raleigh, Unit 101

The NC Dream Team writes: "Next Monday DMVs across North Carolina will be re-issuing drivers licenses to DACA [Deferred Action] youth. The pink striped licenses that will be issued to us have been bashed as discriminatory and getting one may even be seen by some as being complicit in the government's signaling out of undocumented people. ... We may have different opinions and some of us will get one of these licenses and others of us will decide not to. The bottom line, and getting one may even be seen by some as being complicit in the government's signaling out of undocumented people. ... We may have different opinions and some of us will get one of these licenses and others of us will decide not to. The bottom line, though, is that we will drive without fear.

As the NC DREAM Team our priority is to help undocumented youth recognize our individual and collective power. We seek to activate our communities and escalate in our efforts. We are guided by the voices of those directly affected:

- We welcome these licenses as an opportunity for some of us to have an option that we did not have before.
- We are not safer with a regular license because discrimination still happens on the basis of our skin color and the perceived immigration status. At the end of the day we are still subject to deportation and harassment from law enforcement no matter what kind of license we get issued.
- Undocumented youth in North Carolina have been coming out as undocumented, unafraid and unashamed since 2010. We will not allow a pink stripe to re-instate the shame that we gave up feeling with the empowerment of our community." More info: www.ncdreamteam.org
