

Do you eat bread?

Muffins? Granola? Pizza crusts?

Think that everyone should have access to delicious and healthy food, made with love?

Want to build community and food justice?

Join us!

Bread Uprising Bakery is a community bakery located right down the street at the corner of Arnette and Yancey. Once a week, we bake delicious and healthy breads, plus muffins and extra surprises. We already bake for some of your neighbors, and we'd love for you to join!

Being a community bakery means that all the members of the bakery work together to make sure that everybody gets the bread they need and desire. Two of us (Noah, who lives at 816 Yancey St and Tim, who lives at 902 Arnette) do most of the baking, but everybody participates in setting the vision for the bakery and making decisions about how it runs.

If you decide to join, you'll tell us what kinds of bread you want and how much, and we'll work with you to figure out how you can contribute to the bakery (helping to pay for costs, supplying ingredients, helping out with the work, or many other possibilities).

To join, stop by the bakery on the side porch of 816 Yancey (at the north-west corner of Arnette and Yancey) and fill out a sign-up sheet by August 5th. Or sign up online at <http://tinyurl.com/breaduprising>

For more information, call Tim at (919)260-8155 or Noah at (919)619-9935 or visit breaduprising.wordpress.com